

Awadhesh Pratap Singh University, Rewa

Redressal of Grievances

The University has a strong and effective system of redressal for the grievances of students and faculty members. Every year the university constitutes committees like anti-ragging committee, committee for prevention and resolving of sexual harassment cases etc. comprising of teaching faculty and administrative staff for grievance redressal of various types. The committee meets as and when needed and resolves issues presented. Besides this, the students have the provision of approaching the CM helpline that addresses and resolves their issues. In addition to this, an examination grievances redressal committee is also constituted by the University for resolving issues related to the conduct of examination and the result declared thereafter. Special Examination and/or valuation are also conducted by the university as and when required.

Dr. Surendra Singh
Registrar,
A.P.S. University, Rewa
M.P.